Sir:

Kindly note the following in connection with reference US-2002/0156360 cited in the Information Disclosure Statement submitted with the present application, as filed.

In the prosecution of published U.S. Patent Application No. 2002/0156360, the present application was cited as the basis for a provisional double patenting rejection.

As will be noted from the claims now pending in the published '360 application, the gist of the invention of that application is to use a small section of a full field detector in connection with biopsy.

The present application and the cited published '360 application have a common assignee.

Respectfully submitted,
